

Frequently Asked Question on submitting the Full Proposal to the NORFACE Research Programme on Migration in Europe, Social, Economic, Cultural and Policy Dynamics

In the Guidelines for Applicants, if our project collects quantitative data, we are asked to add a variable list and, if possible, a preliminary questionnaire. How can we make a questionnaire to fit into 7000 words allowed in the full research plan? Can we annex the questionnaire?

No annexes are allowed to the full research plan. A whole questionnaire does not have to be included in the full research plan, but you are asked to give as many details of the implementation of the survey and of the (draft) questionnaire as possible at this stage. You are asked to give to the reviewers a clear picture of how the survey will be implemented and what sort of questions will be asked. The formulation of the questionnaire may also be a part of the early phase of your NORFACE project.

NORFACE seeks to fund a balance of smaller and a limited number of large projects. What is meant by a large project? How many large projects can NORFACE fund?

Large projects are projects, which ask for 2.5 million € or more. NORFACE will most probably fund 1-2 large projects. The applicants are asked to justify the level of funding requested in respect of the value added of the proposed research.

What is meant by Data Handling Aspects?

Data handling aspects are e.g. quality assurance, storage of and access to information. You may wish to describe how the quality of the information received e.g. through a survey is assured, how you ensure that you receive the right kind of information through your questionnaire. You should also describe where you have planned to store the answers received through the survey after your project has ended. Who has the right to access the information stored?

What kind of information should be given under the question concerning the Intellectual Property Rights?

Please describe if your project includes any material or results that can be considered to lead to intellectual property rights claims. If so, do you intend to make any agreement concerning intellectual property rights within your NORFACE project?
